

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES.

Miss Bertha Napier has enrolled under Nurses' Reserve and entered

St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, for the three years' training.

At the Red Cross Sewing Rooms.
Wednesday—Woman's Bible Class, Christian Church.

Thursday—Jewish Circle.
Friday—Missionary Society Presbyterian church.

Indicative of the seriousness of the Red Cross nurse enrollment problem is statement received at the Division Department of Publicity from the Red Cross News Bureau at Washington.

The statement, made by Mrs. M. Barnett McComb, one of the first women sent to France by the American Red Cross in the capacity of nurses' aid, says:

"So urgent is the need for trained nurses in France that nurses' aids, just two weeks overseas, have been given the management of entire wards in French hospitals to release the ward nurses for work in the operating rooms.

"The need for American nurses," she says, "especially in the operating rooms is desperate, and those already in France are working far beyond their strength. While there is work they will not stop.

"They cannot go on forever and it is obvious that unless nurses are supplied to take their place and give them a chance to get back their strength, they will go to pieces."

If He Is Overseas.

On account of the large and increasing number of inquiries concerning articles to be sent to our soldiers in foreign service, the American Red Cross desires to inform the American people as follows:

"Regulations established by the War Department prohibit transportation of articles to men in foreign service, unless such articles are absolutely necessary and the report for such articles has the approval of an officer, whose rank is that of a Major or higher.

"This order of the War Department was found necessary for several reasons, among which may be mentioned our limited shipping facilities, making it imperative to restrict cargoes to essentials, the number of non-essential articles which have been sent to our troops, and the fact that Army supplies together with Red Cross supplies now in Europe are sufficient, with but very few exceptions, to care for the actual needs of our men in foreign service.

"A special shipment of 500,000 sweaters, together with other articles is being shipped abroad, which, with the supplies now in the Red Cross warehouses in Europe will make it possible for any soldier to obtain necessary articles from our foreign supplies, if his request has the approval of the commanding officer."

North Middletown Women Busv

North Middletown women made a record in Red Cross activities last week when they completed and forwarded the following articles: 415 masks; 500 compresses; 24 chemises for French women; 12 sheets; 12 pair pillow cases; 12 pair of trench slippers, and a big lot of bandages and surgical dressings.

They also sent to Camp Taylor sixty dressed chickens and sixty dozen fresh eggs and will send another lot this week. North Middletown has always been the banner precinct of Bourbon in nearly everything.

GOV. STANLEY THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE.

During his twelve years in Congress, there was no greater champion of the people's rights than Governor A. O. Stanley. His voice was always lifted in behalf of the weak and oppressed and the laboring man could always count on his active support. He saw that the steel trust was enriching itself at the cost of the consumer and filling its coffers with money which should have gone to its workmen and he demanded an investigation of its studied methods of robbing the public. He was appointed chairman of the committee of investigation, and as such, made a name and fame for himself that was so extensive with the country. He might have made millions by neglecting his duty, but he wavered not and pressed the investigation to a conclusion that proved his charges and placed the concern in its proper light before the country. For his efforts in the matter alone he won the plaudits of the people of the whole nation and honored the State.

Admirably equipped by nature, education and training, with a complete knowledge of the process of legislation gained in six terms in the Lower House of Congress, Governor Stanley will step into the Senate ready made for immediate service in the great cause now engrossing the country. On the other hand his opponent is a tyro in legislation and like others even of much more ability would have to go through a course of sprouts, so to speak, before he could attain even mediocre importance in the that body. But why waste space on him? The doctor is as clever as he knows how to be, but he will not go to the Senate this year, nor another year. So it is useless to discuss a contingency so remote. A vote for Stanley is a vote for ability and efficiency, therefore stamp under the rooster.

Extracts From Gov. Stanley's Speeches.

On March 16, 1918, Governor Stanley made a speech in Cincinnati, Ohio. The Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic newspaper, in its issue of March 17, 1918, reports his speech as follows:

He also sailed into the Prohibitionists by declaring there is little use of our boys laying down their lives for liberty in France "if a lot of fanatics and cranks" are allowed to deprive Americans of liberty at home. "These fanatics are worse tyrants than the Kaiser, and are bigger fools," was his parting shot.

This was quoted in an editorial in the Lexington Herald, also a Democratic newspaper, in its issue of date March 19, 1918, and that paper made this comment:

Would it not be better for the Governor of Kentucky, in whom is invested the supreme executive power of the State, to exert himself to provide a force to preserve peace in Kentucky, than to be "over there"—across the Ohio—declaiming about "pellets of lead from flaming rifles" and denouncing Prohibitionists as "worse tyrants than the Kaiser and bigger fools?"
